FLOOR DEBATE

February 12, 2002 LB 391

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And this is one of those things that can be done, you know, at another time. But I just want to let you know that I'm reading this bill, I'm picking up the kind of things that I do with every bill, but I'm still trying to get an overall grasp of the public interest aspect of this bill, and if I am convinced that sufficient safeguards are in place. The questions that I've asked were designed to help give me an understanding of what the bill, as written, is intended to say. I think I have kind of a feel for what the intent is, but I still have some specific areas I would ask questions about, because along the lines that Senator Beutler is moving, my mind is moving also. But I've taken a good amount of time this morning. Before people who think that any lengthy discussion is a filibuster, I want to make it clear that is not what has been occurring. And if that were what is occurring I would not have proceeded in the way that I'm proceeding. And I certainly would not bail out before noon. I do not have other questions that I'll raise at this point. This may be my second or third time speaking on the advancement of the bill, but I'm...if it is my second time I'm not even going to take the third time. But in order that I can get a little credit, I would like to ask the Chair a question for...Mister...Mr. Speaker, is this my third time on the advance motion, or my second?

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: This is your second.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Being very collegial, creating shock and amazement throughout the universe, in an attempt to astound my colleagues, in order that I can have their jaws drop to their desktops, I'm going to not speak my third time, Senator Jensen, and if I do have questions that I will take up with you or Senator Quandahl or both, there will still be items I will discuss so that they will be a matter of record. Thank you. That's all that I have today.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Raikes.

SENATOR RAIKES: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and members. I don't want to prolong this but I did want to bring up one point in the...in the context of I hope we're going to keep discussing
